Missourian Wins High Honor in National Paper Contest

Local College Weekly Wins One of 12 "High Awards" in Typography

The Northwest Missourian, official student newspaper of the College, last week was rated a "high award" in the national Columbia Scholastic Press Association contest for typography which was held at Columbia University in New York City. Only twelve papers in the United States received the "high award," and thirty-five others were rated first, second and third.

The typography contest was judged on printing, type and craftsmanship, and all issues from Easter to Christmas of last year were entered in the contest. This is the first year that such a competition has been on a national scale for scholastic publications.

The contest at Columbia university was held in cooperation with the National Graphic Arts Education Guild, an organization devoted to better printing, better type, and better craftsmanship within the ranks of the journalistic profession. The Missourian will receive a special type of award symbolical of competition and of typography.

The contest, which is the fifth annual event at Columbia university, was judged by men high in the ranks of the journalistic profession. A large number of papers from all over the United States were entered in the contest, and more than 3500 young journalists attended the annual convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association held in New York last week.

Frederick Schneider, director of the College news bureau, is in charge of the publication of The Missourian, and Paul Strohm, Maryville, is editor-in-chief. Other editors are: Virgil Elliott, Barnard; Marjorie Perry, Mound City; and Kenneth Potter, in St. Joseph.

Her death was due to an illness of mumps, from which she suffered a relapse and later developed complications.

The marriage of Miss Mary Ellen Williams to Edward Gickling, Richmond, a senior in the College, was revealed by Mrs. Gickling at the hospital just before her death. She was entered under her maiden name at the hospital. The wedding took place this past New Year's eve at Leavenworth, Kas.

Mrs. Gickling was born April 19, 1917, at Hayti, S. D., and lived in South Dakota until four years ago when she moved with her parents to a farm near Quitman. She entered Maryville high school from which she was graduated in 1935. Englishman Favors Strong World Power

Oxford Scholar Says Balance Invites War

There must be an unbalanced power in the world if we ever have security and peace among nations.

This idea was advocated by Mr. F. F. Figgures, overseas secretary of the British League of Nations Union, and Oxford scholar, who spoke Wednesday.

According to Figgures war is made possible by a national sovereign state. So long as the world is divided up into political units, he said, we shall not abolish war.

"All countries seek security," he continued, "but that does not necessarily mean they desire peace. What they do want is national security. Forcing the Czechs under the German rule is not an example of national security."

"A balance of power invites war," he declared.

League Makes Unbalance
Substantially the league of nations is intellectually undefeatable, Figgures explained. The league preserves peace through an unbalance of power. The league has failed, however, because England refused to grasp leadership in the league grant by the United States' Congress after the Great War. We have now abandoned the league system, but have nothing to take its place.

Spain Vital State
Figgures concluded his lecture by showing how the group of nations which gain the upper hand in Spain will be the dominant power in Europe. If Germany and Italy control Spain, he concluded, they will be in a position to dictate to England and France.

"The glimmer of hope is that France and England will gain a diplomatic victory over the dictatorship powers, and their strength lies in a League of Nations or a strong alliance.

Mr. Figgures talked also to College classes on Wednesday.

Tower Queen Reigns Tonight

Miss Fentress Will Present Violin Recital

Conservatory Announces New Music Policy

A new policy whereby a music faculty member will be presented in a special recital by the College conservatory of music at various times during the school year, was announced this week by Paschal Monk, chairman of the department.

The first of these recitals will be given by Miss Alline Fentress, violinist, and member of the Conservatory of Music faculty, next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the College auditorium. She will be accompanied at the piano by Miss Catherine Dando, also of the music faculty. The recital will be public.

Mr. Monk explained that these recitals were designated for the education and pleasure of those interested in music. "We hope students and faculty will take advantage of this opportunity," Mr. Monk said, "because it will be a chance to hear fine musical literature performed in person."

Student of L. Auer
Miss Fentress is a graduate of George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn., where she has taught violin and piano. She has also taught violin at the Ward Belmont school for girls, also at Nashville. A student of Leopold Auer, noted New York violinist, Miss Fentress has done graduate work at the Chicago Music College. She has been at the College here for about three years.

Miss Dando, who is a graduate of the Cincinnati College of Music, Cincinnati, Ohio, has been at the College since last fall.

Program
Miss Fentress will open the evening's concert with the four movements, Adagio, Allegro, Largo, and Allegro, of Handel's Sonata in F major. Fritz Kreisler has arranged an accompaniment for the Praeludium and Gavotte from the Sonata in E major by Bach. The evening's artist will play both of these and the Loure movement which is for violin alone.

The third part of the program will consist of the Allegro Moderato, Adagio, and Allegro Energico movements of the Concerto in G minor by Bruch. The last series of numbers will include Sorantin's Capriccio Amoroso, Schubert's L'Abellie, Capriccio No. IX by Paganini-Friedman, and Songs My Mother Taught Me by Dvorak-Kreisler. Miss Fentress will conclude the evening's program with Kreisler's Praeludium and Allegro, a composition in the style of Pugnani.

From the Dean . . .

Beware of spring fever! It is as bad an influence on good scholarship as is the flu. It steals upon you before you are aware, and its evil influence on your school work is fully equal to the after effects of the flu on your physical system. The titles of March, the first day of Spring, the Easter Vacation, and the Mid Quarter Reports will all come in due season but if YOU get the spring fever too early or are subject to its influence too long, you may be sure that your mid-quarter report will be written on a red slip to indicate the danger that you can prevent. . . now.

CAMPUS CAMERA

CATCHING the COACHES Off Guard

Around the Campus

Around the Campus and I journeyed to the New Lib the other morning and it is so nice we almost got our books and went over there to study. Of course, there were several men working around, plastering and putting shelves up and doing similar work but it was still quieter and easier to study there than it would be here in the present library. Anyway, we're going to be able to stick our chest out over that library before long and it's really going to be a Hall of Intellectual Fame.

Out of town one recent Saturday night I overheard an interesting conversation while I was absorbing a cup of "java" in a small town "eatery." Two well-dressed men were discussing college education. One interesting remark they made was "College education slows a man down more than it speeds him up in this way; he hates to say 'I don't know'." Lot of truth in that it seems, and it is surprising how much one can learn by saying "I don't know" and the college-educated, thinking that a sheepskin is the last word in everything, often refuse to say "I don't know."

This reminds me of what a senior said recently, about how he knew everything as a Freshman, he began to doubt as a Sophomore, as a Junior he realized the finite state of his mind, and as a Senior he discovered he didn't know a thing. That is the type of student who really gets an education in College rather than the "Won't say - I - don't - know" type.

I guess if the Sports Editor can get romantic in his column I can too—he should know better than to expose himself like that, none would have known that he was in love if he had kept quiet but even if it is the major sport during the spring quarter, it does not belong in Claws. Because when people get involved in clauses, they sometimes buy a marriage license—that's just a whole bunch of clauses on one page.

That was certainly some debate tournament that the High Schools had here last week and they all seemed to behave themselves very well. Of course, they may come to the College after graduation and then they will get used to this Collegiate whirl.

Whether 'tis known or not there is a rumor that there will be an added attraction at the "Scoop" dance. It seems the other day one of our noble editors rounded up what he calls a "Press Quartet." The undertaker of this venture will call upon the ability of his foresome to make the audience pass out. Knowing the tone and quality of these voices Around the Campus and I would like to request the song, "I Get Along With-out You Very Well." We are sure we will. But as usual they will probably sing one of their famous lullabies.

Dissertation on the Banquet

(By Helen J. Reed)

Have you ever paused in your busy life to consider the value of food. I do not refer alone to that specific requirement of the body for a certain number of calorie shares per day, for I am thinking of greater things than the mere satisfaction of the physical desire of hunger. My thoughts are dwelling upon the ecstatic rapture with which I have so often enjoyed in the company of my fellow comrades those delicate concoctions called food.

I am speaking of those gatherings so dear to the hearts of the American public, those social functions which all anticipate with the greatest of mouth-watering. I refer to that great American institution which shall endure the ages, which we of our generation are so happy to leave to our posterity. In short, I mean the "Banquet."

And along with every banquet think of the unspeakable joy, the ecstasy of rapture, that marvelous quest the song, "I Get Along With-out You Very Well." We are sure we will. But as usual they will probably sing one of their famous lullabies.

We happened to be in the staff office on a recent night and heard the strains of the a capella choir. After a moment a thought struck us that possibly the student body did not realize what an outstanding musical organization we have. The choir recently took a trip to St. Joseph and gave a fine performance. They will be expected from this corner to make many more appearances of such high caliber. . . .

The usual crowd is gathering and the Chief is making his entrance, so I must find another typewriter. I may sound a little daffy, but they have got me guessing again. As fate would have it our lucky third typewriter has once more strayed from its hanger. This particular machine seems to have that certain habit of straying. Where it goes, I do not know. But until it is returned we must bid you a fond farewell.

Books in Review

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN. By Carl Van Doren. New York: The Viking Press, 1938. $3.75.

Mr. Van Doren has written this complete biography, which is based upon ten years of study and research of Franklin's own writings and documents. Much research was required for the part of his life not included in Franklin's Autobiography. Some of the material by Mr. Van Doren has never been used before. Although taking into account the situations and times in which he lived, the book is first of all a study of Franklin as a man, and not "A treasure shut up in a saving bank." The book is written for our generation.

In the Saturday Review of Literature, October 8, 1938, Mr. Crane Britton in reviewing the book comments:

"The book makes splendid, leisurely reading, following down all the highroads and all the little lanes of Franklin's varied life. It has none of the panting immediacy, the melodrama with which some biographers try to spice their books, nor is it 'epic' in the cheap sense the word seems to have acquired. Mr. Van Doren even leaves the epigrams and the aphorisms to Franklin himself, who borrowed or invented enough to make a fortune for a dozen ordinary writers."

The book is interesting enough to be read steadily and consecutively, and, something rarer and more difficult to bring off, it can be dipped into here and there, as you would dip into Boswell."

The Stroller. . .

She was only a coal dealer's daughter—but she always came thru with a scoop.

'Tis the season of mud and wind. And after that comes a new crop of students for short course. And after they've enrolled some of the "old stand-ies" start breaking up. So on your guard, girls, it's the usual spring thaw.

A bouquet of brick bats to Margaret Kyle. Her true love, Bill Litton, isn't in school this quarter, but he's still about school.

Eddie Quillen has been hanging around Laura Margaret Davis quite a bit of late. So much, in fact, that the grandson of the lady where Margaret stays inquired of his grandmother if Eddie lived there. How did she answer that question, Ed!

The reason for Virginia Adams' big smile last week was a visit from her O & O from Chicago. The Down girls were all anxious to see him. They were curious to see just what kind of a man handed out diamonds of that size.

Hints to the Co-eds: To get your man you want to look like a million dollars and be just as hard to get.

Alan Breckinridge has a new way of getting autographs. But Irene Bolinenblust seemed to think it rather cute. Anyway she gave him the autograph, no questions asked. Wonder why he picked on Irene? Alan has a good alibi though. He states that it was due to Hell week over at the Sigma Tau house. Speaking of Hell Week we hear there were some other proceedings, but unfortunately they have been censored by the Ed.

Whatever happened to that Salmon-Weary romance?

Another couple that is becoming habitual is that long and short team of Esther Pratt and John Goodlaxen. I guess he won Esther's heart for keeps after he serenaded her early one morning with a six gun salute of firecrackers.

Funny thing about boys on this campus. They never think of asking a girl for a date until about five minutes before time to go. Then all a girl has time to do is powder her nose and put some finger nail polish on that run in her stocking. Let's have a little hustle, boys.

Spring has sprung for sure. How do you know? 'Cause we saw Mary Frances Sutton and Boone Richards having a picnic on the fourth street culvert. And there was a Big Bottle of MILK in front of them.

Several girls have been casting rather longing glances at that new boy in school, Floyd Reno. But it won't do them any good for one reason he decided to come to school up here was that it is closer to St. Joe and he can get home oftener to see "Little Eva," who is the light of his life at present.

Saw Frank Strong out in front of Abe the other day with three girls. And here we thought he was a charter member of the M. M. M. club (Mis-erable Misguided Misogynists.)

Many students aren't aware of the really fine organization we have in the College dance band. Here's some free publicity for the boys. The personnel of the band is: Randolph "Mechanical Man" Butts, he tickles the ivories and the crowd, too; Don "Bergen" Boyon, the Busse of the Brass; Dick "McCarthy" Moyer, the 8-chorus clarinet player; Earl "Hitler" Boucher, he lost his mustache in the little end of the sax; Thomas "Windy Willie" Boyd, he slides home on the trombone; Jean "Donald Duck" Schneider, he waddles on the trumpet; Charles "Ichabod" May slaps the "base" fiddle; Mahlon "Waffle puss" Hamilton, syrup on the sax; last but not least we rise to compliment Lloyd "Rattlesticks" Storey, king of the drums. If you want to see this gang of rhythm boys swing into action be on hand for the Scoop Dance tonight in the West Library and the Stroller will be on hand to see that you get some publicity next week.

LONG WAYS TO GO—

"Hey, you guys! Where are you carrying that fellow? Is he drunk?" "No." "Sick, maybe?" "No." "Oh, just a gag, huh?" "No, no gag." "I know, he has dizzy spells!" "Nope, been healthy all his life." "Very tired, I guess." "No." "Well, what's the matter with him?" "He's DEAD."

Soph: I didn't call him a fish, I just said real fast, "That's our dean."

With Deep Sympathy

It was with deep regret that we learned of the death of Mary Ellen Williams Gickling this week. She had been absent from her work in the office of the Business Manager for some time due to illness and her sudden death was indeed a shock.

Having known Mrs. Gickling for several years both as a student in the College and later as assistant to the Business Manager, we feel the loss keenly. Liked by all who knew her, the quiet charm and pleasing personality she displayed will be missed both in the office and off the campus.

We take this means of expressing, for the entire College, our deep sympathy and regret to her husband and to her parents.

Poor Citizenship Shown in Destroying Public Property

Every citizen has the possibility of becoming a good citizen; he has also the possibility of becoming a bad citizen. What each citizen becomes in fact is due largely to the forces which enter his life. Some of the things which tend to produce good citizenship are: the prevalence of high ideals, intelligent public opinion; good associates, good schools, appreciation of the good citizen and condemnation of the bad, punishment of lawbreakers, and opportunities for successful, happy life.

A poor example of citizenship is shown in the destruction of public property. Through sheer carelessness public property is often destroyed or mutilated until its usefulness is lost. A glaring example is the breaking of chairs in the library. Several have been broken until they are beyond repair.

Vandalism of public property seems to be typical of one side of the American character. We seem incapable of bearing in mind an idea of decency in the abstract. We treat our own property with respect because we know what it cost and what it would cost to replace it. When we are guests we treat our host's property with respect, but if he is unknown and not at hand to watch us we concede him no rights whatever. We are callous to the idea that things ought not to be destroyed, no matter who owns them or who will use them.

When we use those chairs in the library we are the guests of the public, and we should have enough regard for the host not to destroy his property. We use public property in common with many other people and should have a thought to the comfort of others. We should understand and remember that consideration is due as much to an absent or public host as to a present or private one. J. G.

Bill for Party Fence Jumping Not Keeping With Democracy

A bill has been introduced in the Missouri house of representatives recently that would require any person who desired to change his party affiliations to do so at least sixty days before the primary in August. The author of the bill, Rep. Don Crafton, Democrat of Joplin, says the purpose of the measure would be to shake it more difficult for voters to jump party fences.

On the other hand, would such a bill be in keeping with the principles of democracy? No, it would merely be telling a man that he could vote a different ticket but that he would have to make up his mind on such and such a date. Why not just go the full way and tell him what ticket he can vote? This certainly seems to be a move in that direction.

After all, there are many who cannot say that they are affiliated directly with any party. They like to be identified as independents. But nevertheless they do like to vote at the primaries and are justified in doing so. And since the issues are not clear many times until shortly before the elections, the choice of parties might change during experience of being able to partake of nourishment while allowing your auditory senses to endure the reception of the infinitesimal stimuli given by the toastmasters' beautiful rendition of the latest jokes. (Some of which may be too late to be up to date.)

Ah, yes, the pleasures of the banquet are many. The taking of nutriment in a gay atmosphere is most conducive to efficient assimilation of food. But I leave it to you—in spite of these pleasures have you ever in all your years eaten any food so closely akin to ambrosia as that hamburger you ate with your best friend at the little old home town Snappy Service lunch counter? Has any nectar ever tasted so refreshing as that cake you drank with that hamburger?

The pleasures of the banquet are few and small compared with such pleasures as these. Wake up and live! Spring is here! Now is the time for every good man to come to the aid of his appetite. (1) Get the spring fever now. Revive that appetite today. (2)

(Footnotes) 1—I learned in Physiology that appetite was a risk. 2—This advertisement was not yet put for by the uptown hamburger joint.

Freshman Class to Stage 'County Fair' at College

Farmers' Celebration To Take Place Here On Eve of March 25

Freshmen in the College are this week asked to save Saturday evening, March 25, from 8 until 12 o'clock and at the same time are asked to dig up those old gingham and denim for they will be going to the "County Fair." The more the freshmen resemble hay-seeds, the more in place they will be at this farmers' celebration.

The committee has promised more entertainment in these four hours than they have had so far this college year, all at the price of exactly nothing. Refreshments will be served.

There will be dancing for those who care to dance during the latter part of the evening. The "Fair" will be a no-date affair and fun is being planned for each and every freshman.

Events of the evening are being planned by the following persons from whom further information may be secured: Kenneth Crawford, chairman, Patricia Turner, Wayne Taylor, Steven Franken, Bob Stephenson, Olive To Saunders, Dick Chapman, Mildred Hackett, Emma Isabel Brown, and Erman Bird, with the assistance of Dr. Margaret Ruth Smith and Miss Dorothy Truex, director and assistant director, respectively, of personnel for women at the College.

Harvard Physicist Shuts Laboratory To Totalitarians

Cambridge, Mass.—ACF—Prof. Percy W. Bridgman, famed Harvard University physicist, has shut the doors of his laboratory to citizens of totalitarian states to protest the misuse of science by the dictator-controlled nations.

In a "Manifesto by a Physicist" published in the official journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the leading scientist declared: "I have decided from now on not to show any apparatus or discuss my experiments with the citizens of any totalitarian State. A citizen of such a State is no longer a free individual, but he may be compelled to engage in any activity whatever to advance the purpose of that State. The purposes of the totalitarian States have shown themselves to be in irreconcilable conflict with the purposes of free States.

"In particular, the totalitarian States do not recognize that the free cultivation of scientific knowledge for its own sake is a worthy end of human endeavor, but have commandeered the scientific activities of their citizens to serve their own purposes.

"These States have thus annulled the grounds which formerly justified and made a pleasure of the free sharing of knowledge between individuals of different countries. A self-respecting recognition of this altered situation demands that this practice be stopped.

"Cessation of scientific intercourse with the totalitarian States serves the double purpose of making more difficult the misuse of scientific information by these States and of giving the individual opportunity to express his abhorrence of their practices."

Senate Presents Amendments to Constitution

Student Group Rejects Social Committee Report

The revisions to the Constitution of the Student Government Association were the principle items of business transacted at the meeting of the meeting of the Student Senate on Tuesday evening. The meeting, which was the first held this quarter, was presided over by Durwood Maxted, Tabor, Ia., vice-president of the Association.

The amendments to the Constitution, which were written by a special committee working with Dr. Henry A. Foster, chairman of the social science department, were read and discussed at the last meeting of the Winter quarter and were passed upon then. The Senate proposed certain changes and revisions of the original draft of the amendments and passed them this week. The entire amendment proposal is printed elsewhere in this newspaper.

The entire student body has been asked to read and study the amendments and to attend the meeting next Wednesday morning at which time the voting on these amendments will be done.

The report of the Social Committee for the Christmas Ball was rejected by the Senate by a large vote and the report returned to the committee. The report was rejected on the grounds that it was incomplete, since the entire financial report of the past quarter's activities was not included, and the report was termed inaccurate by several of the senators.

There was also discussion on several minor topics and the Senate allowed a bill for cheer-leading equipment.

Sophomores Keep A Campus Secret

Yes! it is being whispered around the campus. What is it? That's the question. Who knows what it is all about? Surely there is someone in this College who knows what is going on or what is going to take place.

Some say the date is to be March 31. The day or night before the renewal April Fool's Day. And by the way! A rumor has been circulating to the effect that the Sophomore Class social committee, composed of Marjory Powell, chairman; Joe Kurlight, Virginia Bosch, Eugene McLean, Jean Martine and Edward Bird, know more than they are telling. All they will publish at present is that whatever it is will occur, rain or shine.

All Sophomore students should watch this paper closely in the coming issues.

A member of the "Snoopers Inc.," has been employed by certain enterprising students to make deductions and to uncover more details of this deep unsolved mystery. As these details are unraveled they will be published for the benefit of all concerned.

You are asked to keep your eyes and ears open and perhaps you may help solve the dilemma!

Margaret Stafford, Tarkio, was admitted to the St. Francis hospital March 9, with a severe cold.

'Big Whizz' Theme To Be Used at Dance Club Box-Supper

"A big whizz," is the idea of the Dance club box-supper, to be held next Tuesday night, March 21, at the gymnasium from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. It has been especially planned as an initiation of the members who earned their membership during the winter quarter. All members and their guests are invited to come and to bring a box filled with plenty of good things to eat.

The evening is to be spent in true rural fashion. The auctioneer can rattle at least 432 words per second. With him is a promise to sell each a bounteous box with a dining partner. Other features of the evening will be a scavenger hunt, hog calling contest, and most any other things that has anything to do with rural life. Prizes will be given to the man with the biggest feet, woman with the biggest "mouth," sponsor excluded, the most appropriately dressed couple, and—well come and find out the rest for yourself.

Committees are as follows: entertainment, Margaret Kyle, chairman; Nadene Malone, Beulah Harmon, Mary Frances Barrock; prizes, Virginia Lee, chairman; Rose Mae Pink, Winifred Caton, Harriet La-sell; decorations, Zelpha Kessler, chairman; Helen Kyle, Marie Holding and Helen Johnson.

College Newman Club Holds Meeting

The regular meeting of the Newman club, which was held last Thursday, was in the form of a discussion study club on the subject of Contribution. This is the third in the series of discussions which the club is holding. Reverend Father R. E. Graham, chaplain of the club, was present and spoke briefly.

Plans were discussed for a meeting of several Newman Clubs of this area in the near future and a tentative program was outlined. The club is also planning a social event to be held at the clubhouse on West Third street.

A pre-arranged tour of the Rock-hill Nelson Art Gallery will be scheduled.

The group will spend the night in a well-known Kansas City hotel, at which it is probable that special rates may be obtained.

Special provisions will be made for dining in interesting and unusual places with an opportunity for selecting from varied special menus.

Visit Places of Interest.
There will be sufficient free time allowed for all to visit places of special interest to them. In the event that an unusually interesting play or moving picture is being presented in Kansas City at that time, special arrangements for attending those performances will also be made.

It is estimated that between fifteen and twenty-five College women may be accommodated on this trip. Further plans will be announced at a later date, and those desiring additional information may secure it in the office of Dr. Margaret Ruth Smith, Director of Personnel for Women.

Estimate of approximate cost of the trip may also be obtained from Dr. Smith.

Seven Men Take Active Into Phi Sigma Epsilon

Seven men in the College this past week took the formal active initiation into Phi Sigma Epsilon, national social fraternity on the campus. They are: Robert C. Garrett, Parnell; C. F. Lyndon, Clearfield, Ia.; James Hitchcock, Clarinda, Ia.; Nelson Denny, Redding, Ia.; Kenneth Spann, Villisca, Ia.; Paul Gillespie, Edgewood; Stanley Miller, Bolekow. The former five were initiated last Sunday and the latter two in a ceremony Wednesday night following the regular chapter meeting.

Wynn Duncan, Lineville, Ia., president of the fraternity, was in charge of both initiations.

Nu chapter held its Spring quarter smoker last night at the chapter house at 322 West Seventh street.

Actives and guests spent the evening in playing cards and Chinese checkers. Wynn Duncan gave a short talk on the workings of the fraternity. Refreshments were served.

The social committee was in charge of the arrangements. This committee is composed of Fred Davidson, Barnard, chairman; Jim Wells, Maryville; Bob Mitchell, Skidmore; and Bill McCurdy, Brad-dyville, Ia.

Hopes for Bearcats in Track Are Faint This Year; Large Squad Of New Material Reports at Gym

Greatest Weakness on Squad is in Shot Put and Distance Events; Fifteen Lettermen Attend College This Quarter

Track hopes for Maryville appear fairly faint this year. The College has fifteen lettermen enrolled in school this quarter, but illness and ineligibility are thinning a good many of them out. There may be enough good material in the other twenty-eight boys out for track from which to build a good team. The freshman crop is untried as yet, but judging from high school records, there are a number of likely lads in it.

Maryville's greatest weakness is in the shot and distance events. The shot-put is wide open this year for Sipes, who lettered in it, graduated last year. The distance runs could claim another man or two, and so far there seems to be only one pole vaulter out. The team also needs another broad jumper and a number of men for the relays.

Lettermen in College are: Max Mudd, St. Joseph, distances; John Tabor, Kearney, half-mile; Robert Long, Maryville, two-mile; Raymond Curtiss, Ridgeway, broad jump; Frank Yourek, Virden, Ill., high jump and relays; Harry Darr, Bethany, pole vault; Merrill Ostrus, Wola, Ia., high jump and hurdles; Norman Reital, St. Joseph, hurdles and quarter-mile.

Melvin Carter, Polo, discus; Neil Weary, Cairnsville, dashes; Bernard McLaughlin, Virden, Ill., dashes and hurdles; Frank Baker, St. Joseph, middle distances; Quentin Goslee, Skidmore, discus and javelin; Bill Bernau, Earlham, Ia., javelin; and Bill McMullin, St. Joseph, mile.

New Track Men
New men out for track are: Robert Alpert, Sedalia; Robert Allen, Maryville; Robert Gregg, Stanberry; Robert Turner, Platte City; Richard Chapman, Earlham, Ia.; Richard Anthony, Maryville; Richard Moyer, Harrisburg, Pa.; Glen Breckenridge, Smithville; Allen Breckenridge, Turney; Thomas Freichs, Fairfax; Albert Owens, Hopkins; Harold Hutcheson, Hopkins.

Dean Walker, Jackson; Eugene Stephens, Shenandoah, Ia., C. F. Lyndon, Clearfield, Ia.; Burch King, Camden; Arnold Lasley, Hopkins; Andrew Zembles, St. Joseph; John Workman, Maryville; Kirtley Neale, Moberly; Joe Twombly, Webster Groves; Hugh Kelly, Kearney; Andy Kruse, Steamboat Rock, Ia.

Charles Curry, Lexington; Don Fasson, St. Joseph; Charles Vest, Farragut, Ia.; Gale Donahue, Maryville; Emil Miller, Maysville; Ralph Kurtright, Albany; John Martin, Savannah; Millard Fout, Fulton; Elmer Barton, St. Joseph; Frances Toben, Carroll, Ia.; Willard Burton, Huntsville; and Robert Darr, Bethany.

Intramural Program Outlined By Davis For Spring Quarter

Many varied and interesting sports are going to be displayed this quarter as Athletic Director E. A. Davis is preparing to open this quarter's intramural activities. When asked if there would be enough to keep the men of the College busy, Mr. Davis stated, "We'll be busy enough if the weather will let us get outside."

In an interview with a Northwest Missourian reporter, he named several activities that will be prominent. Already underway and of intense interest is softball. A tournament is in the near future and over 110 men have signed to date.

Tennis is bound to prove very exciting as a singles and doubles tournament is to be played. Golf matches will be held and a tournament will also be run off in this event.

Recreation and entertainment will be available with the playing of horse-shoes, badminton, and ping-pong. The intramural idea will prevail in track events the first part of the season.

Competition aplenty will be afforded to the many students signing up in the activities.

Student Editors Choose Mythical All-MIAA Team

Rogers Included on First Five; Hull on Second Team

First Team:
Forwards—Al Schrik (co-captain), Warrensburg, and Jack Russell, Springfield.
Guards—Hayes Adams, Cape Girardeau, and Bob Rogers, Maryville.
Center—James Gibbs (co-captain), Warrensburg.

Second Team:
Forwards—Vernon Law, Warrensburg, and Harold Hull, Maryville.
Guards—Kemper, Rolla, and Baker, Springfield.
Center—George Nelmark, Kirksville (co-captain).

Honorable Mention:
Childress, Springfield; Morse, Kirksville; Richmond and Norman, Cape Girardeau; Richardson and Heller, Warrensburg; Hackett, Goslee and Johnson, Maryville.

Big blond Al Schrik and Kitten Jim Gibbs, the Mules' All-Americans from last year, were selected as co-captains of an all-M. I. A. A. team chosen by the sports editors of the student papers of the conference. Both Gibbs and Schrik were unanimous choices.

Jack Russell, the league leading scorer, and Bob Rogers, a repeater from Maryville, were close behind with five first team votes and a second team nod. The fifth member of the all-star quintet is Hayes Adams of Cape Girardeau at guard, with three editors nominating him for the first string and three placing him on the seconds.

Best Defensive Man
In addition to picking all-M. I. A. A. teams, the student sports editors selected Adams of Cape as the best defensive player, with Gibbs, Rogers, Hull of Maryville, and Russell all mentioned.

Four of the editors picked Schrik as the best offensive man in the M. I. A. A., while one voted for Jack Russell of Springfield, and one named both Schrik and Russell. Schrik and Russell tied for the most valuable award, with Kemper and Gibbs being mentioned. Sports editors participating in the poll were Butch Prater of the Kirksville College Index, Ken Lawson of the Northwest Missourian at Maryville, B. C. Compton of Rolla's Missouri Miner, L. M. Harper of the Capaha Arrow, and Max E. R. Kelfer of the Warrensburg Student.

Four Track Meets Scheduled for College Bearcats

Local Squad to Participate in Two Conference Events

According to Mr. E. A. Davis, College athletic director, four track meets have been definitely scheduled and negotiations for a fifth meet are in progress.

The Bearcats will take to the cinders for the first time this year in the M. I. A. A. indoor meet at Columbia, and for their next meet they travel to Peru, Nebraska, for their annual encounter with that school.

The William Jewell Cardinals are the next opponents of the Bearcats. In their meet last year the Cards defeated the "Cats" by a fraction of a point.

If the negotiations with Warrensburg go through, a dual meet between the Mules and the Bearcats will be held early in May.

Rolla will be host to the other M. I. A. A. conference schools in their annual state meet. This meet was won last year by Cape Girardeau. Springfield was second, and Maryville was third.

The following is the complete track schedule, although some of the dates are tentative:
M.I.A.A. Indoor Columbia March 21
Intramural April 3
Peru There April 7
William Jewell Here April 14
Warrensburg Here May 5
M.I.A.A. Outdoor Rolla May 12

Spring Football Practice Starts

Men of the College are lingering near the gymnasium these days as the call for spring football practice was issued late this week.

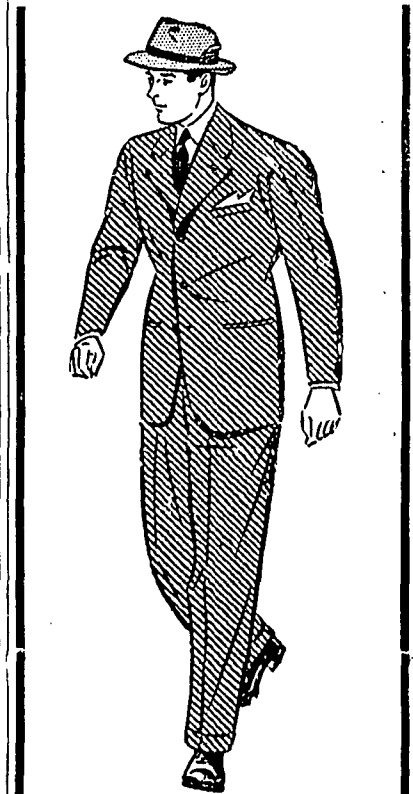

The purpose for the practice sessions is to improve the individual performance of the players. Another important factor is to teach to those newcomers who wish to learn the fundamental points of this fall sport. Those of last fall's squad will turn toward the perfection of their personal traits in performance as well as trying new ideas to be developed in the fall.

Dance Club Plans May Festival Here

The Dance club met Wednesday night, March 8, to make plans for the spring quarter activity. They now have scheduled a May Festival, two minor performances, and a party for the initiation of girls who earned membership into the club during the winter quarter.

Due to Harriet Harvey, Tarkio, leaving school, the club elected Marjorie McAllister, Farragut, Ia., as club reporter.

Bearcat Claws . . .

by ken lawson

The sport page of the Capaha Arrow, the student publication of the Southeast Missouri State Teachers, carried some article this week which has been brought to my attention several times since the paper came out. The picking of the all-MIAA team by the coaches prompted the remarks. In picking his first team Coach Stalcup failed to place Hayes Adams on the roster, which matter was one of opinion and it looks as if he had a right to that opinion. The Cape paper referred to Hayes' being left out as a "mistake" and if I may say so Coach Stalcup did not overlook Adams, he just didn't think he was good enough for the team. In another story in that same paper it was stated that many of the mentors believed that Hayes Adams was the best defensive man in the conference and that he was the best man on the Cape team. It is pretty obvious that he was the best man on the Cape squad but as for him being the best defensive man in the conference, well, that, my friends, is another story. And to you who wrote that article, may I say that I admire your efforts and it must be wonderful to have the opinion of all the coaches already for you.

While discussing this man Adams and his defensive ability it might be well to make some comparisons. In the two games that the Bearcats played against the champion Mules, Harold Hull who did not make the first team, covered Al Schrik so completely that he only scored five points in the two games. If Adams was such a good guard he should have as equally an impressive record.

The Bearcats started their play in the National Intercollegiate tournament at Kansas City last Monday night and they came through with a victory over the Nebraska State Teachers College of Wayne, Nebraska. The Bearcats were in front 16-7 at the half and they won the ball game with a 35-20 score. Harold Hull led the scoring with thirteen points and Don Johnson garnered nine points. According to the papers and to the accounts of the game the boys in green looked good.

March weather is a bit changeable and because of its unusual capacity to be just the opposite of what I think it is going to be I won't make any remarks about the time for the tracksters to be working out. But the first part of this week I did think that the boys would be out scampering around the track before this week was over. However, as I am writing this there is a north wind blowing in at the sides of the windows with such force that my typewriter is shivering on my desk. . . . It won't be long, though, and baseball weather seems to be approaching too. Speaking of appropriate weather, had you noticed how green the grass?

According to hearsay reports the track schedule will be all of the sports interest this spring. Coach Milner has been working out a baseball schedule that should prove very interesting to the advocates of that sport.

In the last issue of the paper a remark was made in this column which did not exactly please all of the boys on the track squad. Now fellows I want to make things right with you. If anyone who was not pleased with the statements in question will please turn in their name and their objections, I will see that the matter is remedied and I will personally guarantee all such people free publicity for the rest of the quarter. Sounds like a good deal, McLaughlin and Reital.

Bearcats Win First Two Games In National Basketball Tourney

Locals Take Games from Wayne, Neb., Culver-Stockton; Go to Quarterfinals

In their first-round game last Monday night, the Bearcats were in good style and came through with a 35 to 20 win over the Nebraska State Teachers from Wayne, Nebraska.

Determined to give the best possible account of themselves in the tournament, the Bearcats took the floor with real fighting spirit and proceeded to run rough-shod over the hapless Nebraskans. Hull, Bearcat guard, took scoring honors for the game with five buckets and three charity tosses for a total of thirteen counters. Johnson, Maryville forward, added nine points.

Whitmore, Nebraska forward, also sank five baskets and would have had another except that his final bullseye, fired from center, was a fraction of a second behind the final gun.

Play was somewhat slow during the first half as the two quintets felt each other out, and the score at halftime was only 15 to 7 in favor of Maryville. With the opening of the second period, however, both teams put on the pressure. The Bearcats seemed to find an uncanny eye for the basket and soon built up a safe lead as the Nebraskans failed to fathom the tight Maryville defense. Even at the charity line the Wayne Teachers were scarcely able to find the hoop as they scored only two free throws out of fourteen chances.
